Hello Farmers' Market Vendors,

The Alamosa Farmers Market will begin the season on July 11 and continue through October 10th from 8AM to 1:30PM on the corner of 6th and State. Vendors will accept cash, SNAP (for all approved food items), and Double Up Food Bucks (for fresh produce). It is very important this season for customers to bring small bills for the ease of the Market Vendors as many of our vendors do not take electronic forms of payment.

As an essential business, the Alamosa Farmers' Market will adhere to all local and state social distancing guidelines and as such will only be allowing vendors selling food products, agricultural goods, and hygiene items at this time. Crafted items will not be allowed to be sold at the market at this time. Additionally, the market will not allow food samples to be handed out nor will it offer live music or on-site kids activities. Craft vendors may apply to be a vendor in the event the market is able to allow them to sell this season.

Masks and strong social distancing practices will be expected from everyone visiting the market. Hand washing stations will be available to reduce the spread of germs. We are asking our customers to make social distancing possible, by sending only one member from each family enter the market. While we understand the importance of the Farmers Market as a means to bringing the community together, we must keep everyone safe during these uncertain times. We appreciate your cooperation.

We are excited for another beautiful season at the Alamosa Farmers Market and we look forward to seeing you there!

Thank you and hope to see many of you in July!
